FLORAL PARK™

Halloween Safety Tips!!!

Ghost, ghouls and monsters aren't the only things to be afraid of on Halloween. Accidents and mishaps increase dramatically when children trick-or-treat. To avoid the many dangers children face while trick-or-treating, use common sense. Be aware of potential Halloween hazards and take precautions to eliminate them.

Halloween Costume Safety

- Wear flame retardant costumes.
- Hem your costumes so you don't trip and fall.
- Apply reflective tape to your Halloween costumes.
- Avoid cumbersome masks. Use make-up instead.
- Wear comfortable, practical shoes.
- Double tie your shoelaces so you don't trip.
- Keep your costume and wig away from candles.
- Don't carry fake swords, guns, knives or similar accessories that look authentic. Make sure they're flexible and cannot harm anyone.

Trick-or-Treating Tips

- Plan your route ahead of time.
- Trick or treat in familiar neighborhoods.
- Carry a flashlight with fresh batteries after dark.
- Wear identification that's easy to read.
- Always trick or treat in groups, accompanied by an adult.
- Follow a curfew.
- Stay on the sidewalks and out of the streets. Cross only at intersections and designated crosswalks.
- Walk. No running.
- Don't trample through flower beds and gardens.
- Walk with your head up and be aware of your surroundings.

- Only visit well lit houses. Don't stop at dark houses.
- Don't enter any houses unless you know the people.
- Don't approach unfamiliar pets and animals.
- Don't cut across yards and stay out of backyards.
- Always watch for cars backing up or turning.
- Never accept rides from strangers.
- Respect other people and their property.
- Be polite and say "thank you."
- Don't eat any candy until it's inspected for tampering under bright lights.
- Avoid candy that has loose wrappings, is unwrapped, has puncture holes, or is homemade.
- Report any suspicious or criminal activity to an adult or the police.

ODE TO AUTUMN IN FLORAL PARK

by John Schulte

*Indian Summer yields to crisper night air.
Distant are memories of the past County Fair.
Labor Day sounds the end to summer fun,
As solstice is proof a new season's begun.
Days give way earlier to twilight and dark,
As Fall is upon us in our Floral Park.*

*Ghosts, ghouls, and goblins soon will appear,
For tricks and treats as they do every year.
Pumpkins are carved and filled with light,
To join other fright'ners on Halloween night.
Treats are given 'til each home goes dark,
For this is tradition in our Floral Park.*

*Then on to the turkey with trimmings galore,
With tales of the Pilgrims and other folklore.
And heads are all bowed, giving thanks on High,
With feasts culminating in a nice pumpkin pie.
The season keeps flowing to its equinox mark,
As time marches on in our Floral Park.*

HOME TOUR

By Sandy DeAngelis
Home Tour Chair

This is the season when we begin plans for the Floral Park Home and Garden Tour. We've already had our initial organizing and recap meeting with a spectacular turnout. We're well on our way, I believe. In fact, we already have one house volunteered for the Tour. But, we need five or six more houses and at least three gardens before we can get the ball fully rolling.

As a reminder, the Tour will take place on Santa Clara and south. And we're scheduled for April 27th and 28th from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Recall that this is the major fundraiser for the neighborhood and it allows us to have wonderful parties, and maintain and beautify our neighborhood. In addition, we give scholarships to deserving students in Santa Ana and support local charities. Last year we gave $11,000 to worthy students and charities.

Each year nearly 300 volunteers give many hours to make sure the Home and Garden Tour is a success. I would like to give special thanks to three volunteers who were there at the beginning and who have been faithful in supporting the home tour across the past 20 years: Beverly Schauwecker, Nicki Curran, and Nancy St. Jacques.

So, the immediate task before us is to obtain enough homes and gardens to begin our third decade of success. Imagine that. Our third decade. Amazing.

Now, typically, here's where I begin cajoling, crying, begging, and sometimes even threatening. But, this time I'll let some of those whose homes and/or gardens have been on the Tour speak for me.

"We loved having our home in the home tour! It was very convenient and gave us the opportunity to meet a lot of new people! The volunteer team took very good care of our home and even added some great touches to make our home look beautiful!"

-- Hermelinda and Kurt Simon

"When first asked to be on the Home Tour we said 'No thank you.' When asked again we replied, 'No thank you'. Finally, we agreed to be on the home tour in 2005 and we are glad we did. After all, it is just neighbors taking a quick walk through your home or garden. It was fun and the Home Tour committee helps make it effortless. There were so many little details they offered to help us with. Also our neighbors offered to help us. If you have a two-story home you can just have them walk on the main floor. You can pick the flow of traffic, help write up a few things about your home that may be interesting and even can have your friends and family docent. A hotel is provided so you do not have to be in your home. When you return I guarantee you will find it just the way you left it and have a good feeling about helping our neighborhood and community." -- Wanda (and Gil) Marrero

"In early 2011 we said yes to participating in the 2012 Home and Garden Tour. We are so happy we did so. Our 85-year-old house was in need of some rehabilitation and it was time for people to see our beloved home. So we went to work during the four months before the tour. Paint, new screens, reconstructed windows and new plantings lifted the house and our spirits. Reward enough. And then the tour weekend was finally upon us. Hundreds of people passed through our beloved home and they loved what they saw. Those two days were filled with support, happy stories and bits of history we did not know. Those two days were exhilarating, rewarding and loads of fun. We were left with just one question. Why hadn't we said yes before?"

-- Blake Anderson and Giovanna Piazza

Now, none of this would be possible without the work of a well-oiled machine of volunteers some 300 strong. That machine is made up of some 300 parts that each contribute mightily to our success. As Beverly wrote in preparation for this year's meeting, "We are cross trained for all positions and everyone helps one another and steps in when there is an absence or quick need for action."

You know, participation in the Tour is reward in and of itself. I don't think anything in my public life has given me so much joy and satisfaction as this event. So, jump in. The water's fine. As you've learned from the comments above, you'll be eternally glad you did.

Elections are Coming...

We are approaching that time of the year when the planning process must begin to determine who will be the "volunteers" who step forward to get involved in the myriad of duties required to continue the Floral Park tradition for another year. Neighbors, just like you, have valued our neighborhood and have made it special by their involvement and efforts to maintain and improve Floral Park and our neighborhood association. These volunteers work tirelessly to address issues that affect our neighborhood, to make our neighborhood activities a success, and to make us all proud that this is the place we call home.

Please take a look at the brief FPNA board position descriptions below and consider volunteering. If a board position isn't your cup of tea, consider involvement at a committee level. Contact a board member by email or phone (see roster on page 9) and let us know what role you'll consider in 2013 for FPNA. Getting involved in this neighborhood is always a great decision, and the personal reward that comes from getting to know so many of your fellow neighbors is invaluable. Join us in the effort and find out for yourself!

Congratulations to Mark McLoughlin

Recipient of the 2012 Com-Link Neighborhood Hero Award

By Janelle McLoughlin

The first annual Neighborhood Hero Award was established in 1997 by the Communication Linkage Forum (Com-Link) Board in order to honor those residents of Santa Ana who have shown commitment and enthusiasm toward improving the quality of life in their neighborhoods. Since then, many exceptional individuals have received this award and were subsequently recognized for their efforts by the Santa Ana City Council at a formal ceremony held in the Council Chambers.

This year Com-Link chose to honor ten individuals who were nominated by residents within their own neighborhoods because "... each has shown the leadership, the commitment, the generosity, and the selflessness needed to enhance their neighborhoods. We are proud to be honoring these individuals. It is their love for their community that makes them leaders."

The Neighborhood Hero Award process starts each Spring. Any resident within their own neighborhood can nominate a neighbor for the award. Once the nomination form is completed and submitted to the Com-Link Board, a committee from Com-Link reviews all the entries and selects the recipients.

With great pride, Floral Park has had ten Neighborhood Heroes over the last 16 years, and we would like to thank them again for representing Floral Park and their continued volunteerism within our neighborhood:

Firefighters Appreciation

Every year the Floral Park Neighborhood Association (FPNA) and the Families of Floral Park (FOFP) team up for Firefighter Appreciation Week. It is typically celebrated in the summer, and this year our appreciation week was July 24, 25 and 26 (to cover all three shifts).

The FPNA donated the main course for dinner for our local station #71 on 17th Street, and Catherine Boezinger (FOFP) coordinated the delivery of the main course with Bev Schauwecker (FPNA). Volunteers from FPNA and FOFP were invited to show up with salads, sides, and desserts ... and show up they did! Children/grandchildren were also encouraged to create cards and color fun pictures to present to the firefighters.

"Thank you for an amazing turn out this year for our local firefighters," said Catherine Boezinger. "Your contributions were wonderful. Many of the station members are new since the 'shift' of leadership to 'county' from 'city.' This act of kindness will stay in their memories for some time!"

Scmidt, Wolff, Schutt, and McKinney Kids show their appreciation!

PRESIDENT'S PODIUM

By Mark McLoughlin, FPNA President

HOW DOES MAGIC HAPPEN? Using illusion, the art of appearing to perform supernatural feats using sleight of hand or other methods such as neighbors pulling together as volunteers.

With November right around the corner, we are looking for folks that would like to join the Floral Park Board and make MAGIC HAPPEN.

Check out page seven for the Board position descriptions. We have learned this year that recruiting your best friend to co-chair a position is a fun way to volunteer.

Our 2012 social co-chairs Jamie and Cassie say, "We love to party!" and they have really done a superior job planning, organizing and pulling together some awesome events for you.

Quick Recap of Upcoming Events (visit www.floral-park.com for complete details):

The Joint Neighborhood Concert in the Park in Morrison Park in August was a perfect night of big fun. If you missed this event this year, you must put it on your calendar for next year, even if only to watch the flying t-shirt gun in action. The young folks were trying to jump and catch the t-shirt balls and the old folks were dodging them. A moment of memorable chaos!

By popular demand, the Fall Concert is back September 8 in the Heliotrope Drive cul-de-sac. Bring your candelabras and good food and let the party begin.

Our general meeting September 19 will be a town hall meeting format because we want to hear from you and get a feel for what projects would you like to see the FPNA sponsor this year and next.

We are looking to have a Fall Golf Scramble at River View Golf Course on October 13, but we are dependent on at least 40 players to sign up. It is a pay as you go type of event but it sure would be a great tradition to start. If you are interested in participating, let Jamie or Cassie know (contact information can be found in their article on page two).

An event not to be missed is the Annual Chili Cook-off which is scheduled for November 10. Whether you are a meat lover or a vegetarian, there will be something for everyone's taste. And don't forget the live music that keeps everyone's toes tapping!

November brings the elections for the Floral Park Neighborhood Association Board at the November 14 General Meeting.

Yes, there is a Santa and he will be on North Park Boulevard on December 16 for our annual Holiday Party. This is a great time to come out and wish friends and neighbors Happy Holidays.

This is how MAGIC HAPPENS in Floral Park. Remember, when you come to one of the events you never meet a stranger because we all have the love of our vintage homes and conversation comes easy.

So, again we're a bit squeezed for space this time, it appears. Perhaps the best I can do this issue is give you some tidbits about this and that. Nibbles, so to speak. I've made a few visits and one new discovery that I want to share.

First, a couple of expansions. Our Floral Park friends and neighbors Richard and Mary Coleman have opened a kind of annex almost just up the street in Orange from Café Lucca. The new place, Metropolitan Crepe, is almost tucked away in the Courtyard. But, you can't miss it.

It seems much of the gelato has walked up the street to join the newly offered array of crepes although there's still a nice selection of the Italian dessert at Café Lucca yet. I've dropped in for gelato but it was after dinner and crepes weren't in the plans. I have heard great raves from others, including my foodie daughter, that the crepes are fantastic.

Thanks, Colemans, for continuing to make this an even greater place to live and eat. Next time, it's crepes for sure.

Another old friend, Anepalco's Café on Main Street in Orange (but almost in Santa Ana) has spawned a sister restaurant, if one can spawn a sister that is. Going by the same name is a new establishment located just five quick minutes up the 5 freeway at the Ayres Inn just across from the new UCI Medical Center at the corner of Chapman and The City Drive.

Whereas the original is only open for breakfast and lunch, the new place offers dinners as well. Sandy and I had to make our way up there recently on a balmy Thursday evening. Unlike the small place on Main, this one offers plenty of dining space although Oscar, the loyal sidekick to Chef Daniel, told us it fills up for the weekend brunches.

And, of course, it was fun to see Oscar in shirt and tie rather than his usual Anepalco's tee-shirt when he's hustling in the original haunts. (continued on page 13)

MEMBERSHIP

By Jessica Carr and Joy Rideout
Membership Co-Chairs

We did it. We have met our goal of raising $10,000 during our Membership drive and even exceeded it!! We are currently at $10,595 with only 155 households contributing. Dare I say let's shoot for $11,000 this year? Why not, right? There are over 600 homes in Floral Park and only a fraction have contributed. Remember: You are already a member of this neighborhood just by the fact that you live here. But the money we raise during the year is not a membership due but rather a donation that pays for the administration of the neighborhood association. Please consider a donation no matter how small to keep our neighborhood association running smoothly and providing funding to improve communication. The Floral Park Neighborhood Association is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt charitable organization. Contributions are deductible under state and federal law to the extent applicable (consult your tax professional for advice).

Many thanks to Rob and Judy Johnson for allowing us to use their beautiful backyard for the June Mixer. Once again we had an amazing turn out and there were over 70 neighbors sipping wine and having a good time. We even had one couple from another City who were just driving thru, saw the sign and decided to stop by! I found that to be a true testament to the spirit of this neighborhood, everyone is welcome.

The calendar for the neighborhood is pretty packed for the rest of the year with lots of time to socialize. So we have decided to consolidate the last two mixers into one event. We have not chosen the date or the location yet, but we will keep you all posted once a decision has been made. And, as always, if we have missed your donation or misspelled your name or left your partner's name off of the contributing household's below, I will get that corrected immediately.

So here's to another great and potentially record setting Membership Drive. We truly appreciate your continued support.

Tina Booth

Aug 19, 1940 - May 6, 2012

By Brian Hews

After a four year battle, beloved Floral Park resident Tina Booth succumbed to lung cancer this past May, she was 71. Born in London in 1940, Tina endured the “Bombing of London” with her family when she was a child and was actually forced to a local bomb shelter many times. Tina recalled those frightening experiences often with her extended family, and told them to watch “Hope and Glory” a “terrific recollection of the bombing” to get a feel of what her family went through.

The family subsequently moved to Kent in 1945. Her father John Skewes was an expert tailor with Saville Row in London and fashioned clothing for royalty, including the Duke of Windsor and many actors and actresses including Tyrone Powers. John met Tina’s mom, Lillian Lundell, when she was a “tailoress” in London.

In 1956, the entire family immigrated to the United States and settled in Laguna Beach. Tina attended and graduated from Laguna Beach High, where during those years she met the love of her life (married almost 55 years until her death) Clarence Booth, Jr. Their courtship lasted for over one year and they were married in 1957.

Tina and Clarence moved into their first house in Santa Ana in 1961 and had their first child Cora Booth (Hews) in January of 1962. In August 1965 they had their second child, John Booth, and eventually moved into a new house -in Santa Ana, on Santa Clara St., an area now known as Floral Park-where they have resided for the last 45 years.

Tina was an excellent painter, accomplished in many mediums, her favorites being oils and acrylics. Tina enjoyed painting landscapes as well as portraits, and her many works hang in the house on Santa Clara and also in many of her family and friend’s houses. One of her paintings was the logo of the Olde Ship in Santa Ana, which hangs over the side entrance as you walk into the restaurant.

Tina was such a good painter she could turn an old fence into a masterpiece. True to her talent, she became accomplished at painting “Faux Scenes” also known as Tromp l’oeil. Literally translated Tromp l’oeil meant “To Deceive the Eye”. Her works are evident inside the house on Santa Clara and in many houses in Floral Park.

Tina’s “British” sense of humor was second to none; she would always liven up any room. Pour her a “Lager and lime”- British for an ale and a lime, and Tina would really get the humor going.

Tina is survived by her husband Clarence Booth, daughter Cora Hews, son John Booth, son-in-law Brian Hews, grand-daughters Jessica and Ellis Hews, and sister Judith Lane. Services and internment were held Friday May 11, 2012.

OUT & ABOUT

The food was excellent, of course, with more than a hint of what makes the original so popular. Sandy had callo de hacha (Scallops, grilled Spanish chorizo, ancho polenta, and chipotle sauce) which she pronounced divine. My choice was al adobo (coulotte steak marinated in chimichurri sauce, cambray onions and a side of chilaquiles). I simply had to see how he incorporated his famous chilaquiles into dinner. As expected, he did so masterfully. Take a look at the dinner menu on their website (www.anepalcoscafe.com) to find other options.

We sure plan to go back.

And, Oscar reported that a third place around the corner from The Playground in downtown Santa Ana is still in the works. Ole!

And, speaking of Ole leads me to another find. Well, it wasn’t lost, but I had come across references to a new place via Google searches and some restaurant blogs. I am trying to make my way around some nearby delis to put together a longer piece and came across Old Spain Delishop. OK, let’s be clear about something from the outset. Mexican and Spanish food are not the same. Neither are British and American food. Vietnamese and Chinese food are different.

That being said, cultural traditions do sometimes follow migration and linguistic pathways. Sometimes the same word could refer to quite different foods. Spanish chorizo, mentioned above, is more like a hard salami, almost like that wonderfully sour Genoese type I prefer. Well, this place has a nice selection of chorizo, cheeses, and Serrano ham, the latter being Spain’s even better version of prosciutto. Well, that’s my opinion, at least.

In addition, there’s a wonderful array of canned and preserved meats and vegetables direct from Spain. I bought some anchovies that are unlike anything you’d recognize by that name. White, delicately flavored, they made a simply outstanding complement to any spicy dinner you’re preparing. A complete list of products is available at www.olespaindelishop.com. It’s located very conveniently just down the 55 freeway at McArthur, on the south side as you exit to the west.

And, the topper? Paella on Tuesdays and Fridays. I’ve not had theirs but it’s on my short-term bucket list.

Santa Ana College Foundation Boosts Student Success

Christina Romero,
Director, Santa Ana College Foundation

Santa Ana College (SAC), which is a valuable community resource that sits in the backyard of Floral Park, is gearing up to celebrate 100 years of academic excellence in 2015. SAC has grown from a wing at Santa Ana High serving 26 students to a bustling, urban campus serving nearly 30,000 students. SAC offers instruction in over 300 subject areas leading to associate degrees, vocational certificates, and transfer to four-year universities.

To ensure that no student is denied a higher education due to financial constraints, the Santa Ana College Foundation was founded in 1968. The Foundation's mission is to maintain, expand, and enhance educational opportunities at SAC by linking community resources to college and student needs. By fostering support of the college, the Foundation strives to preserve Santa Ana College's near century history of student success and ensure a "future of promise" for all.

We invite everyone in Floral Park to come visit SAC and witness the exciting transformation of this incredible college.

There are many options for involvement with the Santa Ana College Foundation. You may establish a scholarship, join the President's Circle or fund a program that is near and dear to your heart. To learn more about SAC or to arrange for a campus tour, please call the Foundation at (714) 564-6091 or visit www.sac.edu/foundation.

LOST/FOUND PETS

What to do if your pet is missing. (Please know that it is illegal in the City of Santa Ana to post signs on lampposts, trees or other public property.)

- Call or visit Animal Control.
- Canvass the neighborhood with friends and treats.
- Search online. There are several online pet finding services; Pet Finder, Fido Finder and Sherlock Bones to name a few.
- Leave food and water out in your yard in case your pet comes home on his/her own. Do not leave food and water out on a regular basis - it attracts coyotes, raccoons and feral animals which can harm our pets.
- Make sure your pet is wearing a name tag with your cell phone number on it vs. your home number. Chances are you will be out looking for your pet and not in your home.
- Email a description and one jpeg image of your pet to fpnews@floral-park.com. For lost pets, please include the pet's name, sex and breed information. For found pets, please indicate where the animal was found.
- Sign-up to receive our lost/found pet notifications via the FPNA E-mail list.

Most Beautiful Yard

2214 GREENLEAF
Sherry & Walter Gibson

Congratulations to Sherry & Walter Gibson, pictured with their Com-Link “Most Beautiful Yard Award” presented on June 28, 2012. The Gibson home at 2214 Greenleaf was among 22 winners this year in neighborhoods throughout Santa Ana. The nominating committee stated, “The homeowners work in their yard every morning sweeping sidewalk and paths so not to have one fallen petal out of place. The design and balance of the walkway is manicured with many levels looking like a gentle rope of green. The design and choice of plants gives a true cottage look to this home and garden. Such love and attention to detail is a true joy.”
